DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 1-5, 18-19 and 23-24 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 08/15/2008. Claims 6-16 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 6 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sakagami et al (US Patent No. 5,961,291).

Sakagami teaches:

limitations from claim 6, a method of reducing the incidence of restart failure in a dry pump comprising, monitoring the temperature of a dry pumping mechanism after cessation of the pump, C. 3 Lines 62-65 and C. 4 Lines 14-18, examiner notes that to keep within a temperature range as suggested, the temperature must be monitored, and initiating operation of the pumping mechanism for a fixed time period so as to purge a proportion of contaminate particulate matter present until a predefined temperature is reached or a predefined time limit has passed, C. 4 Lines 19-38;

Art Unit: 3746

limitations from claim 16, wherein the method is stopped when the first of a predetermined temperature or a predetermined time limit has been reached, C. 4 Lines 31-38, the method is performed before the start of the pump, and stopped once starting period is finished;

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sakagami et al (US Patent No. 5,961,291).

Sakagami discloses and teaches of the method of claim 6, including a pre-selected temperature interval within which the method is performed.

Sakagami does not explicitly teach performing step c) at regular drops in the monitored temperature of the pumping mechanism.

However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art of pumps at the time of the invention to perform step c) at appropriate temperature intervals in order to provide the most complete removal of contaminate, including intervals occurring as the heated pump cooled.

Regarding the limitations of claims 8-14:

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art of pumps at the time of the invention to choose, as a matter of design choice, the appropriate time or temperature intervals needed to achieve a clean pump that is capable of being restarted.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 15 is objected to as being dependent upon rejected base claim 6, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See attached document.
